

At Random

No pant cuffs since March 30th.

Not even clothiers can sell you pants with cuffs.

They have to cut them off, if needed, and send the salvage to a manufacturer.

Why not everyone wear shorts and be done with it?

42 a month for the boys in service. Fine!

Now why not leave alone the Austrians wanting to work more than 40 hours a week?

Why should they have to come under the domination of unions and politicians? This is WAR!

Are you doing anything for national defense?

If not, what is your alibi?

That's the most important job of us have today.

What will we do without golf in the future?

Better beat Hitler and the Japs first. Then talk about golf balls.

Should Hitler win, he will have grinding sausages for the German army.

Hard to imagine, but not impossible.

It will be impossible if we start working together, and stop playing politics, petty unionism, petty strikes.

Why won't people realize that we are in war? We can lose it. But we won't if you and everyone else does his part.

Let's not have it said again that we were "too late" and there was "too little."

Should your dog fail to return home, look in the dog cemetery. Running deer may have been its crime.

The penalty is death, and properly so.

Floyd Miller of the Royal Oak Tribune devotes a full-length double column about his becoming a grandfather.

Huh! One would think he had nothing to do with it.

We've got two GRANDsons and a GRANDdaughter and it hasn't moved up our pace any.

Otto Langenberg Ends Own Life By Hanging

HAD BEEN IN ILL HEALTH FOR PAST YEAR

Otto Langenberg, 57, of 902 Michigan avenue, was found dead at his home Tuesday afternoon, evidently strangled to death from a rope that had been tied to the ceiling and looped around his neck.

The body was found by his wife at 5:30 p. m. upon returning home from the Grayling Laundry where she is employed. Coroner Norman Butler and Sheriff Papendick who investigated the case were of the opinion that he had been dead since about 10 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Langenberg had been in poor health and appeared despondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Langenberg came to Grayling from Detroit to reside about a year ago. Previous to that time the former had been a frequent visitor here, having come on hunting and fishing trips for many years with Detroit friends.

Mr. Langenberg was a tool and die maker by trade and also a very fine cook. When his health began to fail him it was necessary for him to give up his labors. Through his frequent visits to Grayling he had become quite well known to many here and liked it so well that he and his wife came to take up their residence.

Born in Rhineland, Germany, January 10, 1885 he came to America some thirty years ago. Surviving, besides his widow Hanna, is his aged mother and a sister in Germany, neither of whom he had heard from in almost a year.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Butler Funeral home.

3rd First Aid Class Organized

Another first aid class of the American Red Cross is being organized and will meet next Wednesday night, April 8th, at the Grayling High school from 8 to 10 o'clock. This class will be under the supervision of Mr. J. Warner. We now have three classes. Monday night a class under supervision of Dr. C. R. Keyport; Tuesday night Dr. C. G. Clippert; and Wednesday night Mr. Warner. Mr. Lewis Dorman will assist in all three classes.

Entire membership of these classes approximate 100 students.

Upon completion of these classes, and passing of first examination, a First Aid station will be established at Frederic and at Whispering Pines on U. S. 27.

Names of qualified graduates will be published in due time.

Oil Industry Has Bright Outlook

With the outlook for Michigan's oil industry brightened by an increase in the daily allowable production quota set by federal authorities, oil operators have applied for auction of state-owned oil and gas lease rights to wildcat lands in Bay, Arenac, Gladwin, Newaygo, Missaukee, Lake and Roscommon counties.

Further applications are being received by the conservation department's lands division for auction of oil and gas rights to other lands, to be offered early in May if the sale is approved by the conservation commission in April.

Wildcat lands likely to be offered at the May sale include 1,000 acres north and west of the Headquarters field in Roscommon county and considerable acreage in the southeast quarter of Sauble township, Lake county, where one wildcat well was drilled in recently as a promising producer.

THE HAUNTING DECT

Mrs. Celia Hruski Passed Away

Mrs. Celia Hruski, a resident of Grayling for a long number of years, was found dead at her home Saturday by her daughter, Mrs. Anna Swanson, of Otsego lake, who had come to visit her that day. From appearances the elderly lady had been dead for a couple of days.

Mrs. Hruski had lived alone since the passing of her husband Michael, in March, 1939.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning with services at St. Mary's church, Rev. Fr. James Moloney officiating. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

Surviving the deceased besides her daughter Mrs. Swanson, are two other daughters, Mrs. Estel Rejnu, Wyandotte; Mrs. Minnie Benn of Birmingham and one son Henry, a captain in the U. S. Army and believed to be at present on duty in the British West Indies.

Grayling friends remember the daughter Anna and son Henry, both of whom are graduates of Grayling High school.

Schools To Organize For Salvage Efforts

High school students in this section are invited to listen to a special radio broadcast Monday, April 6, at 11:30 a. m. over Station WTCM, which will re-enact the salvage drive of the students of Redford (Detroit) High School which netted 10,000 lbs. in three days.

This broadcast, in the form of a recording, is sponsored jointly by the Michigan Council of Defense and the State Department of Public Instruction. It is part of their state-wide program which suggests the forming of a Council of Defense in all public and private high schools.

Each Council will aim to unite its students, their parents and teachers, and the alumni of their school in the cause of freedom and in a determination to build anew in 1942 the Spirit of '76.

The sponsors of this program realize that to achieve total victory for the cause of freedom the force of our arms must be backed up by an unconquerable spirit in each one of us.

Notice to the Public

The assessment roll for the City of Grayling will be open for public inspection at the City Office during the week beginning April 6th.

C. of C. Meeting April 7th

The regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be the first Tuesday in April—April 7th, at 7:30 o'clock.

Whether you are a member or not, you are urged to attend this meeting. Matters of community importance always come up for discussion, and you should be there to take part.

President Ernest Borchers says that things look good for a busy summer in the tourist line. Already he is booking engagements for down-river trips for groups of from two to twenty.

Resort and tourist camp owners should make a special effort to attend the meetings. And also list their places in the directory that is to be published in due season.

Don't forget—Tuesday, April 7th, 7:30 p. m. at the Court house.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Grayling Kiwanis club was honored Wednesday when International Representative Bill Dunlop of Los Angeles, was a visitor. Except for his visit, the whole meeting was cockeyed. Everything was in keeping with April Fool's day.

Dr. Clippert announced the titles of the songs and then led in singing some other song. The Victory song was substituted by "Casey." And others just as ridiculous, while members were vainly trying to find the right song on the song sheet. It all ended with a vociferous "April Fool."

Then the food was served and the first thing was cherry pie and coffee. Dinner (chicken and biscuit) came next and then soup and tomato juice. What a mix-up! Eating a meal backward must have fooled our stomachs but we believe it was a delightful and very beneficial experience. Everyone eats his dessert whether or not his stomach is filled to over-capacity. Eating it first induces moderate eating; hence better health, and lower doctor fees. And that would be one on our medicals.

One of our members who takes his 15-minute daily naps, failed to show up at the meeting to take advantage of the soft downy cot that awaited him. This was a really enjoyable April Fool meeting.

Another very pleasant feature, but with a sensible vein, was the admission to membership of Harry Hutchins, bookkeeper at the offices of Kerry & Hanson Flooring Co.

Mr. Dunlap, as international representative of Kiwanis, suggested a number of changes be made in our by-laws. This was done at that meeting. He made other excellent suggestions that the clubs should do, for which they are eminently fitted.

Emil Giegling, chairman of the program-committee, had charge of the meeting.

The Weather

We spoke too soon last week about the snow as going so fast. It did but there was another real snow fall during Friday night. However, it was of the wet variety and before Saturday night had mostly melted away. The weather is warming up steadily.

YOUR CAR

How to Get the MOST out of It

Sales of new cars to the average citizen have been stopped. New tires cannot be purchased. Even retrofits are being rationed.

In view of these wartime conditions, this newspaper today is starting, on an inside page, an interesting and timely series of articles entitled "YOUR CAR—How to Get the MOST out of It."

This series, based on material prepared by General Motors Customer Research staff in co-operation with General Motors engineers, proving ground experts, research technicians and service specialists, should prove helpful to every motorist in the crucial days ahead.

GOOD FRIDAY

Next Friday, April 3, will be Good Friday. It is requested that all business places be closed from 12 noon to 3 p. m. All churches of the city will hold services during the above hours.

Please close your place of business and attend church.

Womans Club

A very successful year for the club ended with a pot luck dinner with the gentlemen as guests, at Michelson Memorial church Monday evening.

Each long table was centered with a bouquet that reminded one of a gay, old-fashioned posie garden. A fine large crowd sat down to a sumptuous meal.

The drama committee had charge of the program which followed the dinner. A skit "Return to Civilization" was presented. The subtle humor in the skit was brought out splendidly by the cast which was made up of Mrs. Charles Meisel, Miss LaPave, Miss Kiley, Mrs. Joseph Stripe, Mrs. Donald Gothro, Miss Myers, and Mrs. James Cluff.

A short business session was held to round up the business of the year. The president, Mrs. Frank Bond, made a few remarks, thanking the club for their cooperation throughout the year.

The club voted to give $25 to the "Visual Education Fund" which is being sponsored by the faculty of our public schools. Through the use of films, classes are given visual education which is one of the excellent methods of modern teaching. The project which is being financed by the faculty is a very worthy one and the contribution by the club will be appreciated by them.

The Social committee for the evening included: Mrs. Holger Schmidt and Mrs. Harry Hutchins as co-chairmen; Mrs. James McDonnell, Mrs. Fred Welsh; Miss Gail Welsh, Miss Josephine Nichols, Mrs. Ernest Hoesli and Mrs. Joseph Stripe.

To Demonstrate Fire Fighting Outfit

To give residents of small northern Michigan communities a demonstration of practical fire fighting equipment and some first hand advice on how to use it, men of the conservation department's forest fire fighting service are now visiting towns and villages in their fire protection areas.

Among the tools being demonstrated are back pumps which throw a fine spray useful for extinguishing incendiary bombs and burning buildings as well as forest fires. This equipment, packed with shovels and axes in the department's new, fast-towing light trailers, is of a kind communities now without organized fire protection can obtain for their own defense.

A small booklet describing pumps and other equipment found useful in forest fire fighting and adaptable to local community defense is being prepared for distribution, with a view to coordination of local and conservation department fire defense plans.

Kalkaska, April 2—Frée "hunting licenses" will be a feature of the national trout festival here April 24, 25 and 26, and while they are good only for Japs, the United States Marine Corps officers who are dispensing them promise all takers free ammunition, equipment and pay, besides.

Chief occasion for the festival remains the opening of the trout fishing season on Saturday, April 25, but the national war drive dominates the festival opening, with a "victory rally" on April 24, at which representatives of 40 counties are to view conservation department forest fire fighting equipment which is suitable for rural fire defense.

Anglers heading north for the year's first weekend of trout fishing will find the festival's conservation exhibits and events abundant, as in earlier years.

Shutting the Door

The Japanese on the West Coast are being herded into camps away from the coastal zone. Safety of the nation demands such action. The Japanese and the Chinese and other Orientals should never have been allowed to enter this country. They should have been excluded, not because of their color or their race, but because they can not be assimilated.

Americans can not lower their standard of living to compete with Orientals. That standard should not be lowered merely to benefit the Orientals, or the individuals or corporations who seek to profit from employment of Japanese, and Chinese, or cheap labor from any other country, for that matter. Cheap labor is not cheap; in fact the cost is so high when all the costs are computed that the cost is prohibitive.

Orientals should be transported out of this country when hostilities cease. The immigration door should be closed and barred.

—Ingham Co. News, Mason.

YOUR CAR How to Get the MOST out of It

Note: Every motorist needs to know how to get the most out of his car—for his own and for his country's sake. Following is the first of a series of articles on car conservation. They are based on material just published in a book, Automobile User's Guide, which was prepared by the Customer Research staff of General Motors in cooperation with General Motors engineers, Proving Ground experts, research technicians and service specialists.

To make your car serve for the duration, you must be both a careful driver and a careful owner. You must (1) operate your car sensibly and (2) see that it is kept in top-notch condition.

A careful driver, from the point of view of your car, is not just a good driver. Many things that a good driver can do under normal, peacetime conditions, a careful driver would be foolish to do today. A careful driver would not drive fast today even on the best and safest road in the country unless saving a few minutes time were of paramount importance.

Similarly, the rules of car maintenance have changed. Points that were of minor importance before Pearl Harbor now must be given first consideration. Under-inflation has always been bad for tires, yes. But some were willing to pay in decreased tire mileage for a more cushioned ride. Today that price has become prohibitive.

It will be worth your while to review your motoring habits and decide how they must be changed to meet changed conditions. The next two articles in this series will discuss how to operate your car to squeeze every ounce of mileage out of it. Tires, lubrication, motor, brakes, instruments and car appearance will be dealt with in subsequent installments.

Conservation Notes

Unless there is a special demand, there will be no organized field trips for sportsmen into browsed-out deer yards this spring, the conservation department announced today, citing a lack of reports of wholesale deer starvation such as occurred in recent, more severe winters.

The urgency of conserving tires and preventing avoidable wear on automobiles was taken into consideration in the department's decision to suspend the conduct of deer yard tours this spring.

In the event, however, that individuals or groups wish to visit or check-up on points of special interest within game areas, arrangements can be made to have the local game area manager serve as guide, it is pointed out.

Up to March 23 the Hanson refuge near Grayling was the only game area to report finding starved deer, and few were reported there. More reports of starved deer are expected, however, as the end of the yarding season nears.

Among the wildlife reported stranded in southern Michigan by the spring floods were a 15-pound carp found flopping about a Flint golf course, a wild rabbit picked up by the ears from a wall in Ionia, and flocks of pheasants roosting in trees hundreds of yards from dry land.

Writing at the rate of several hundred a day, the Lansing office of the conservation department already has issued 9,000 of the new permanent gun permits, and has unfilled applications from as many more hunters on hand.

Crow shooters lead the list of applicants, with target marksmen nearly as numerous. Hunters after predators during the closed season on game are among the applicants in northern Michigan, but by far the greater number of permits is being issued in the more populous southern counties.

Until this year the permits for carrying rifles and shotguns during closed seasons were issued annually by local conservation officers. The new restricted permanent permits, good while the holder also has a current small game hunting license, will furnish a hitherto unavailable index of off-season gun use in Michigan.

Apparently set on making a friendly inspection of the town, a deer suddenly appeared on the main street of Pickford and, while spectators looked on in amusement, walked half way up the street before disappearing between two houses. A barking dog ended the deer's inquisitiveness, drove it in full flight to the nearest woods.

Cow Discovered Silver Polish

If it hadn't been for a cow, one of the most popular brands of silver polish would not be adding glitter to our homes.

Back in 1873, a man was driving along the outskirts of Keene, N. H., when he came upon a cow mired in a bog. While rescuing the animal he noticed that her legs were covered with a peculiar black substance that grew lighter as it dried. Of a scientific turn of mind, the man took some of the mud home and studied its properties. The substance proved to be prehistoric ooze that possessed amazing ability to clean and polish silver, glass and metals. The mud which the cow found was a diatomaceous earth that consists of the skeletons of ancient ocean organisms.

The Home Front

"We're all in this war together. . . . If any of us lose our freedom, all of us lose it."

These words of WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson were spoken to CIO representatives in Washington. They might be directed equally as well to the farmers of Michigan—or to the doctors, bankers, lawyers, storekeepers or housewives.

Men working together will win this war.

—United We Stand—

Another bit of sound philosophy was given last week by Walter Reuther, UAW-CIO leader, when he told Michigan labor and management representatives "Victory lies ahead, not behind us."

Quarrels and grievances of labor and management in the past must be forgotten as they put their shoulders together in the drive for increased production.

Joint labor-management committees to boost production have been set up in many of Michigan's war plants since the regional conference last week in Detroit.

—There's a Job to be Done—

One of the WPB representatives from Washington fittingly described the Production Drive as a two-man crosscut saw, with labor on one end and management on the other. They have to pull together to get any sawing done.

—It's Up to You and Me—

Behind the recent OPA order, which fixed maximum retail prices for seven household appliances lies a determination that "the public shall not be compelled to submit to unreasonable and inflated prices simply because supplies are short."

Previously, although OPA had placed price ceilings over many products at the manufacturer's or wholesaler's level, regulation of retail prices had been restricted to autos, tires and—in 19 states—gasoline. The recent order fixed maximum retail prices for new mechanical refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and attachments, heating and cooking stoves and ranges, typewriters, radio sets and phonographs. As a result, price control for the first time became of direct and personal interest to millions of us.

As a result of the war, already we must work differently and play differently, eat differently and dress differently, travel differently and build differently, do business differently and live differently.

—Work and Sacrifice—

Hungry steel mills still are crying for scrap metal. It is estimated that there is an average of a quarter of a ton of scrap on each farm in the U. S. This means that lying around on Michigan farms are 46,897 tons. Think of the bullets and tanks that would make!

The WPA is going to help the WPB Bureau of Industrial Conservation get this scrap from the farms. All you have to do is gather it together in a pile and a WPA truck will come and get it.

—Scrap Hitler—

Business men and industries throughout Michigan will receive help with their priorities problems without the necessity of going to Detroit, under a new field service established by the WPB's Michigan Priorities Division. Two consulting analysts from the Detroit office have been assigned to visit cities of the state on a regular schedule, beginning March 30.

Earl W. Allen will cover the eastern half of the state on the following schedule: Monday, Pontiac and Port Huron (alternating); Tuesday, Flint; Wednesday, Saginaw; Thursday, Bay City; and Friday, rotation among Ann Arbor, Alpena and Sault Ste. Marie.

Joseph V. McQuillan will cover the western part of the state on the following schedule: Monday, Lansing; Tuesday, Grand Rapids and Muskegon; Wednesday, rotation among Kalamazoo, Traverse City, Petoskey and Cheboygan; Thursday, Battle Creek; and Friday, Jackson.

The priorities men will have headquarters in the Chambers of Commerce of the cities visited.

Tires were rationed and gas was hard to get, but Gilbert Roney, shown above, is sitting pretty. He goes to his job at an aircraft plant in Santa Monica, Calif., on his "unicycle." ## Health & Hygiene

(H. H. Riecker, M.D. For: The Michigan Joint Committee on Health Education).

DEFENSE WORK

It has been suggested that the maximum amount of work in the defense industries should be 60 hours per week. This suggestion is based upon the experience of the British munition workers and the physiological findings having to do with energy output by the human being.

It is realized that this amount of work can be done easily by certain individuals and scarcely at all by others. On the average, however, the healthy, young or middle-aged man should be able to accomplish this amount of work fairly easily and come through the stress of the war period none the worse for his experience. One of the chief factors that will make this possible is the food from which the energy to do the work is derived.

The chief foods which produce energy are the starchy foods. The man who does physical labor frequently takes tremendous amounts of starches, such as bread and potatoes. Both starch and protein foods are burned in the body with the assistance of vitamin B1 or thiamin. If this substance is not present something happens deleteriously to the body and weakness, loss of appetite, stiffness of the joints and fatigue, both mental and physical, seem to cur.

It is reliably estimated by scientists in this field that 500 units of vitamin B1 or 1 1/2 milligrams of thiamin are necessary to burn 1000 calories of starch or protein. About 15 slices of bread equal 1000 calories and if whole wheat bread is used, the thiamin content is sufficient to metabolize this amount of energy easily.

Many diets of men doing a considerable amount of muscular work are known to be insufficient in vitamin B1. If they are to work throughout the emergency period of the war successfully, feel good while they are working hard and afterward, then the vitamin content of the food must be kept at a fairly high level. Fatigue is a rather constant symptom of vitamin B deficiency, with relation both to physical and mental work.

Recently, investigations seemed to indicate that vitamin B1 is lost from the body in sweat, that even more is lost in this way than through the kidney secretions. If a defense worker is sweating a great deal even with short periods of work, an increased amount of vitamin B1 would be highly advisable.

If the housewife believes that her husband or members of her family are not securing enough vitamin B, then there is justification in the use of vitamin B supplements. Perhaps the easiest obtainable and the cheapest reliable source of vitamin B is dried brewers' yeast. However, every effort should be made to supplement the diet by naturally containing vitamin foods.

The vitamin B component is high in liver in pork. It is present abundantly in nuts or nut products, such as peanut butter. The difficulty is that we do not always know how much of a vitamin is lost in cooking, storage or freezing. We do know that unless the vitamin B content of the diet is present in sufficient quantity, the workmen in defense industries are going to experience more than the usual amount of fatigue. The output of the workers, individually and collectively, may well depend in great measure upon the knowledge and ingenuity of the housewife who prepares their meals.

Cancer

One of the most important, and often one of the least understood, health problems in Michigan is that of cancer and its control. Because of the fear and mystery that have always surrounded this subject the attitude of the general public is still largely that cancer is an incurable disease from its beginning and the least said about it the better for all concerned.

While it is true that for hundreds of years there was little hope to offer to the cancer patient, enough is now known about prevention and control to offer considerable measure of hope to cancer sufferers. Authorities say that if all the known scientific facts about cancer were fully utilized, a reduction of one-third to one-half in the number of deaths could be brought about within a space of five years.

Through research in many laboratories it has been established that early, and only early, cancer is curable. Cancer in late stages is incurable by any known method of treatment. The only recognized methods of treating cancer today are surgery, X-rays, and radium, used singly or combined as the particular type of cancer and the judgment of the physician may dictate. No drug, salve, serum, or any form

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

Best storekeeper I ever knew was a fellow named Sam Abernethy. Sam's specialty was to take over some run-down store that somebody else had given up as a failure. Then Sam would turn it into a gold mine.

"But the most important thing of all," he used to say, "is to remember who's boss!"

"You may think you are boss of your business . . . but you're not. The Public, your customers, are the real bosses . . . and you've got to run your business the way they want it."

That little statement of Sam's made a big impression on me . . . particularly since it certainly seemed to work so well in Sam's case.

And Sam isn't the only one. I see the beer industry feels the same way . . . certainly, the brewers believe in running their business the way you and I would like to see it run.

Folks like us like to see beer sold in clean, quiet, decent places.

Well . . . the brewers feel the same way about it. They don't want their beer sold in wrong surroundings. They know it doesn't pay. And they know it hurts the good name of beer.

I was reading the other day how the brewers and the beer distributors work together and cooperate with law enforcement authorities. The idea is to make careless beer retailers clean up their places and practices . . . or close up.

It's a good plan . . . and it seems to me it ought to work. I understand it is already in operation in a number of states and is being extended.

It's a mighty fine thing when a great industry has the gumption to do a job like that on its own initiative. And if Sam Abernethy was right, the brewers should be mighty successful . . . because they're running their business the way the public wants to see it run.

of faith healing will cure the cancer patient. No one advertising or guaranteeing to cure cancer should ever be consulted by any one who has or suspects cancer.

When the public comes to know such simple, but vital facts as those just mentioned, and seeks the help of competent physicians and reputable hospitals in early stages of their disease, improvements in the cancer situation can be expected.

April has been designated as Cancer Control Month by Congressional Resolution and during this month a nation-wide emphasis is being placed on cancer education.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the April term of this Court, to be held at Grayling in the County of Crawford, State of Michigan, on the 14th day of April, A. ## State of Michigan

In The Circuit Court For The County Of Crawford, In Chancery.

In the matter of the Petition of Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery:

Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

That he is the Auditor General of the State of Michigan and makes and files this petition under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended;

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid-off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed, subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

Wherefore, your petitioner prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this Court may determine and decree that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this Court make a final decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule, against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said decree provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount decreed against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your petitioner may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this Court may seem just and equitable. And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated: February 2, 1942.

VERNON J. BROWN,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

QUICK THINKING

A small boy was asked to dine at the home of his teacher. His mother questioned him on his return.
"You are sure you didn't do anything that was not perfectly polite?"
"Why, no; nothing to speak of."
"Then something did happen?"
"Well, while I was trying to cut the meat, it slipped off to the floor. But I carried the situation off all right."
"What did you do?"
"Oh, I just said carelessly, 'That's always the way with tough meat.'"

DRYAD

He—You certainly look like a dryad.
She—A dry ad for what?
He—For bathing suits. You haven't got yours wet yet.

Willing to Try
Dad—Son, I never knew what it was to kiss a girl until I courted your mother. I wonder if you will be able to say the same to your children?
Son—I think so, dad, but not with such a straight face as yours.

Not So Lucky
Brown—I have no money with me except a "lucky penny" that I have carried for years—you don't want that, do you?
Bandit (looking at Mrs. Brown)—No—I don't believe I do.

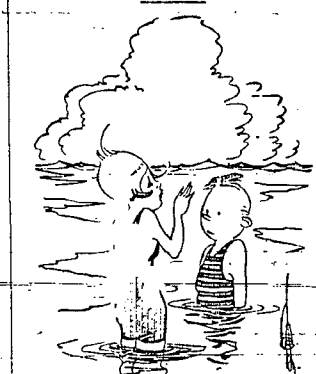

Hope-Chest Mommy
Visitor—What was your mummy's name before she was married?
Young Innocence—I think it must have been Biltmore. That's the name on our towels.

Ability
Sapphira—How did you-all like de new preachah, Mirandy?
Mirandy—We liked him fine. Why, dat man asked de Lawd foh a lot ob' tings de udder preachah didn't eben know he had.

Wait a While
"I would lay the world at your feet," cried the romantic suitor.
"I wouldn't care for it, in its present muddled up condition," replied the girl haughtily.

Alas!
"How's the boy doing at school?"
"Oh, he's playing haffback."
"Good; how about his studies?"
"Ah—still farther back, I'm afraid."

FRESH FELLOWS

He—Do you like fresh fellows?
She—Yes. I try to get a "fresh" one at least twice a week.

Take It Easy
In a quiet country town a commercial traveler entered the general store. Going through to the parlor at the back, he came upon the proprietor and a friend engaged in a game of checkers.
"Mr. Jones," he said, "there are two customers in the shop."
Jones did not raise his eyes from the board. He merely nodded and whispered: "That's all right. Keep quiet and they'll go away again."

No Flattery Please
Judge—You certainly committed this burglary in a manner that shows a high degree of ingenuity. In fact, I can't remember a case where more cunning was used.
Culprit—Now, your honor, no flattery if you please. If there's anything I hate it's flattery.

Signal of Success
"Professor, your laboratory has exploded into the air."
"Good. That means that my experiment has succeeded."

Two Distinct Standard Oil Companies

The newspapers report settlement of an action brought against Standard Oil Company of New Jersey under the Sherman anti-trust law because of certain relations it had with the German dye-trust with respect to patents. Because of the lack of understanding by the public that Standard Oil Company of Indiana, operating in this part of the country, is entirely separate and distinct from Standard Oil of New Jersey, this company is likely to be subjected to some extent to popular criticism or even hostility because of this incident. In fact, they are already aware of some feeling against their company occasioned by earlier reports in the newspapers regarding the alleged relations between Standard of New Jersey and the Germany company.

The Standard Oil Co. of Indiana says: "To make sure that at least the newspapers where we are operating have no misunderstanding regarding this matter, we wish to inform you that Standard Oil Company of Indiana never has been a party to any of the agreements between Standard Oil of New Jersey and the I. G. Farbenindustrie of Germany. Without taking any position for or against Standard Oil of New Jersey we wish to state that any criticism of Standard of Indiana in connection with the matter of the Jersey company's dealings with the German dye-trust would be entirely without justification."

Visual Education

Last week's film was a double reel titled "Native Arts of Old Mexico." The picture portrayed the age-old crafts and arts indulged in by native craftsmen in making articles for the tourist trade and their own every-day use. The absence of standardization characterized many of their products which are useful as well as beautiful. Such craft industries as: reed figures, basket weaving, wood carving, furniture making, hand-painted tiles, spinning and weaving, clay toys, embroidery, pottery and blanket making were pictured and explained.

Seniors

The class has chosen their announcement of graduation for 1942 and plan to send for them soon.
Last Friday Misses Gloria MacNeven and Mary Jane Joseph discussed the many aspects of living and working at Michigan State College.

Orientation or Freshman week with all its tests was explained along with many of the school traditions.
The class wishes to thank the people who give their time in discussing the future with them.

Junior-Senior Contest

In a recent magazine selling contest the Juniors out-sold the Seniors more than 4 to 1. Neither team reached their quota but a nice profit was made for the classes.

Michigan industrial workers are thankful (or should be):

That the state unemployment compensation law is the most liberal in the country, following changes made by the state legislature. Source: Social Security Board, Washington, D. C.)

That benefit checks are for sums larger than payments in either New York or California.

That conversion of automobile plants to war use is proceeding at a faster rate than predicted.

That the average weekly wage was $44.92 in January, compared with California's $40.37 and New York's $35.75.

And yet labor unrest continues. Why?

The C.I.O. demands an extra dollar daily from General Motors Corp., alleging huge profits from war contracts.

The corporation proposes that contract negotiations be opened to the public through the newspapers, inasmuch as public money is involved.

How labor unrest is being fanned may be illustrated by the following:

Revelation of war profiteering by certain manufacturers. Case: Jack & Co., Inc., Cleveland airplane parts company, gave out $600,000 in bonuses in 1941. The boss "earned" $145,845; his secretary received $39,356.

World War I produced many millionaires. Workers remember this. So do farmers.

The Nyc congressional committee (1934) reported that "the record of the present shipbuilding companies during the (World) war, wherever examined, was close to being disgraceful... Huge bonuses were paid to officers. Profits were concealed as 'rentals.' The American Legion also made a clamor about 'taking profits out of war'."

While the Cleveland case of 1941 is an exception rather than the rule, it provides labor organizers with much needed ammunition for wage negotiations. Farmers see justification in higher prices for farm commodities. The cycle of effects is long.

While Michigan workers may be better off than those elsewhere, as the cold statistics prove, yet political capital continues to be made that labor is not getting its just dues.

Governor Van Wagener spoke at a labor conference arranged by the state department of labor and industry. Listen to these criticisms of Michigan labor laws:

"Michigan ranks 26th among all states in liberality of workmen's compensation payments. For an industrial state, that is a disgrace."

Furthermore, 1942 is a campaign year, and that means inevitable bidding - by politicians at Washington - and at Lansing for pressure group votes.

Interpretation:

It must be obvious to the man on the street, the ordinary guy who makes democracy tick, that unless Congress acts to curb abuses by both industry and labor (excess profits whether in annual salaries and bonuses or in hourly wages and restrictions on production) that today's labor unrest is going to keep fermenting.

It must also be obvious that the war should take priority over politics.

A truce on the home front is urgently needed.

Weakened by internal strife, we can lose the war. And if we lose the war, we lose the highest living standards any nation in the world has ever enjoyed.

Liquor Control Regulations

(Editor's Note—This is the second and concluding article of a series from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, designed to acquaint you with your powers and responsibilities as a private citizen in making Michigan's Liquor business more to your liking.)

Authority to make the liquor business in your community exactly as you want it—including the authority to prevent any sales by the glass—is vested in the hands of your township board or your city council.

If you object to dancing in liquor establishments, if you believe any establishment is so conducted that the community interest would be better served by revocation of its license, if you object to the location of any such liquor place—the power to remedy the situation rests with your local officials.

It was the intent of the Legislature that local communities should have maximum control over the business in their communities and it has been the policy of the Commission to carry out this intention.

Outside of Detroit, where different regulations are necessary because of the metropolitan nature of the section, your township or city officials have the following powers over liquor sales and licensing:

1. All by-the-glass licensees must have approval of their township, village or city boards or councils before a license will be issued.

2. Upon receipt of a resolution asking it from any local governmental unit—city or village council or township board—the Michigan Liquor Control Commission must revoke a license. This is mandatory and the Commission has no discretion. This applies only to by-the-glass places and not to clubs and package liquor vendors.

3. Local legislative bodies may prohibit sales of all alcoholic liquors on Sundays, election days, or holidays. They may also pass ordinances providing for distance from churches, schools, or playgrounds at which establishments must be placed.

4. No dance permits will be issued without approval of the local village or city council or township board and also the approval of chief of police or sheriff. The permit can be revoked immediately at the pleasure of either the local council or board or the chief law enforcing officer. Saginaw has limited the number of dance permits in the city to five and requires a $500 license for each permit.

5. Sale of spirits in any locality is possible only after removal at an election unless such sale was legalized by the local legislative body in 1937.

Local outstate officials have no legal control over the following:

1. Local officials are without legal authority to set closing hours. However, in several smaller cities where licensees have cooperated voluntarily, midnight closing hours have been established under a "gentleman's agreement."

2. Local officials have no legal control over issuance of SDD or SDM permits. However, police chiefs are asked to pass on each permit or "club" license granted and although legally the local unit has no power as a matter of practical fact, few such permits are ever granted without the approval of the local chief, the sheriff, the permit can be revoked immediately at the pleasure of either the local council or board or the chief law enforcing officer. Saginaw has limited the number of dance permits in the city to five and requires a $500 license for each permit.

Those on the sick list include Lyle Dunkley, Mrs. Maude Shorts, and Mrs. Elijah Flagg.

Mrs. John Armstrong, who has been in Detroit and Ann Arbor with her son Charles, will return with him this week. Charles had to have an eye removed, due to an accident.

Mrs. C. S. Barber and Mrs. Jay O'Dell spent Saturday in Gaylord visiting Mrs. Barber's aunt, Mrs. George Nichols, who is quite ill.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles I. Opitz and Mrs. Edith Payne and daughter Miss Edith, spent Friday at proval of the local chief, the sheriff, the permit can be revoked immediately at the pleasure of either the local council or board or the chief law enforcing officer. Saginaw has limited the number of dance permits in the city to five and requires a $500 license for each permit.
